Long Para

The Death Race is a hunt that pushes human skill and endurance to its limit and beyond. In the furnace of Africa's Kalahari desert, one ancient tribe has perfected this death-defying feat, where a lone hunter chases an animal on foot through the hottest part of the day until one of them falls down dead.

Modern-day hunter gatherer Guy Grieve returns to Africa, where he was raised on tales of the San bushmen and their legendary Death Race. His mission is to see if the legends are true, and to witness for himself the most remarkable, ancient and dangerous hunt on the planet: a race in which only the winner survives.
