

Jeremy Wade's DARK WATERS

(8 x 42 mins)

Jeremy Wade has spent the last 35 years solving mysteries that lurk in our planet's rivers, lakes and seas. But the waters of the world are deep, dark and forever changing, and Jeremy has only skimmed the surface.

In 'Dark Waters' Jeremy turns his spotlight on the bizarre and the weird, the mysterious and the unexplained. He investigates reports from around the world that have baffled scientists – entire fish species suddenly disappearing, unexplained sightings of mythical beasts, once thriving rivers now empty, and genetic mutations that may have produced the biggest monsters yet.

Jeremy's searches take him to some of the world's most remote areas, to pre-historic worlds lost in time and out into the open ocean.

Even after decades of investigation, mysteries linger, hidden beneath the surface of the dark waters of the world.
